手机在偷听你吗？

Is Your Phone Eavesdropping on You?

也许你也遇到过这样的事情。“刚刚我和我朋友说起哪种跑步的鞋子更好，手机就介绍给我了，我的手机是不是在偷听？”

其实大多数时候，手机并没有真的在听你说话。你和朋友说起跑步的鞋子，那么很有可能你刚用手机看过鞋子。你在看视频、购物、看朋友分享的照片的时候，你的每一次停留、点赞、搜索、分享，都会有可能被记录下来。手机的后面好像有一个看不见的“数字影子”。它一直在“想”你喜欢什么。你对一种东西看得越久，“数字影子”就越觉得你喜欢；相反，如果你很快划走了，它就认为你不感兴趣。慢慢地，这个“数字影子”非常了解你爱看什么、可能会买什么、一天中几点看手机最多……甚至它比你家人更熟悉你。

人们对“数字影子”的看法各不相同，有人认为它可以更快地让我们找到有用的信息。因为它了解你，所以它在工作和生活上给你的建议会很准确。但也有人认为“数字影子”会让我们困在自己的想法里。因为无论你是对的还是错的，只要是你常做的、常买的，它就会给你更多。让你觉得：“我是对的”。这就会让人永远生活在自己的世界

Perhaps you have also encountered such a thing. "Just after I talked with my friend about which running shoes are better, my phone recommended them to me. Is my phone eavesdropping on me?"

In fact, most of the time, your phone is not really listening to you. When you mention running shoes with your friend, it is very likely that you just looked at shoes on your phone. When you watch videos, shop, or view photos shared by friends, your every pause, like, search, and share could potentially be recorded. Behind the phone, there seems to be an invisible "digital shadow." It is always "thinking" about what you like. The longer you look at something, the more the "digital shadow" feels you like it; on the contrary, if you quickly swipe away, it thinks you are not interested. Gradually, this "digital shadow" understands very well what you love to watch, what you might buy, and what time of day you check your phone the most... It even knows you better than your family.

People's views on the "digital shadow" differ from each other. Some believe it allows us to find useful information faster. Because it understands you, the advice it gives you in work and life will be very accurate. However, others believe that the "digital shadow" can trap us in our own thoughts. Because regardless of whether you are right or wrong, as long as it is something you often do or buy, it will give you more. It makes you feel: "I am right." This causes people to forever live in their own world, thinking that everything outside this world is bad and wrong.

里，认为这个世界外面的东西都是不好的，都是错的。
